PICNIC FOR POOR TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY

Parties Will Leave for North Anderson on 9:30 Car—About 200 Expected to Attend.

Ensign Bolcher of the local Salvation army stated yesterday that the plans for the picnic for the poor, which is to be given in North Anderson next Wednesday, were progressing nicely and that if the weather permitted he would expect a large crowd in attendance.

He stated that the collections for this cause had been very liberal but that he had not collected quite enough.

This picnic is being given for the poor in the city who may have an opportunity to get out for a day's outing. The Salvation Army is planning to have about 200.

The picnic will be held in the park at North Anderson, and the parties will leave the square on Wednesday morning at 9:30 on street cars.

Let Us Brag a Little.
Let us brag a little. In the present European war the Germans and Austrians combined have destroyed or captured less than one British boat a day, while during the war of 1812 our valiant sea rovers did so little damage to English shipping that the appalling sum total at the end of the war that the figure were scarce believable—something over 2,000. With the material we have on hand we can lick the world, but what's the use? It is doing it itself as fast as it can.—Nabraska State Journal.

One Way to 120.
A gentleman from the North was once to see one of the far-famed look-worms Georgia crackers, so he asked an old negro to point out one. "Yo see that black spot ovah yonder in the field?" asked Moses, as he pointed toward an object in the field a half-mile distant.

"Yes," replied the Northerner, "but I can't tell whether that's a man or a stump."

"Well, boss," was the reply, "ef yo watches it on bouah an' it moves it ain't a stump."

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of Sunday School Course, The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

LESSON FOR JULY 11

SOLOMON ANOINTED KING.

LESSON TEXT—I Kings 1:28-40. GOLDEN TEXT—Know thou the God of thy father, and serve him with a perfect heart and a willing mind. I Chron. 28:3.

"The king is dead; long live the king." Old and decrepit at seventy years of age, a successor must soon take the shepherd king's seat of power.

David's record is a wonderful one as an empire builder, an organizer and an accumulator of wealth. Read carefully I Chron. 28:28. Three characters are the most outstanding for our consideration in this lesson.

I. David. (a) He had to make a selection (vv. 20, 27) but God used David to make his own choice of Solomon. Jedidiah, "the beloved of Jehovah" (2 Sam. 12:25), was he whom Jehovah desired to sit upon the throne. (b) David had a promise he must needs fulfill (vv. 17, 30). While his second son, who sought to usurp his throne, is engaged with his fellow conspirators (vv. 9, 41) in feasting and rejoicing in their supposedly easy victory over the aged father, David rallies and gives direction for the public proclamation of Solomon as king, thereby redeeming his promise. Many professed Christians treat their promises far too lightly. Bath-sheba emboldened by her need (v. 16) enters the king's chamber where now another ministers in her stead, and lays the facts of Adonijah's rebellion before David, concluding her petition with the dramatic words of verse twenty. Bath-sheba's petition is re-enforced by the words of David's mentor, Nathan (vv. 22, 27). Turning again to Bath-sheba David emphatically reiterates his determination to carry out to the full God's commandments relative to his successor. Even in the hour of his departure David remembers that it is Jehovah "that hath redeemed my soul out of all distress" (v. 29). David then gives careful command relative to the public proclamation of the new king (vv. 32, 35). Calling to his help his trusted and tried friends, Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet (see 2 Sam. 12:24, 25) and Benaiah the soldier (I Chron. 11:22-25), he directs them to place Solomon upon his own mule (v. 33) and take him to Gihon there to be anointed and proclaimed king in David's stead. Contrast David's scrupulous obedience regarding the use of horses (Deut. 17:16) with that of Absalom (2 Sam. 15:1) and Adonijah (v. 5). Note also it was the priest and the prophet alone who were to anoint the king (v. 34). In this we see a parable of the establishment of the everlasting kingdom of righteousness by the Prince of Peace and not by means, or use, of the sword.

This anointing was a symbol of dedication to God (Lev. 8:19-12) and the oil of our anointing by the Holy Spirit which is all essential and sufficient for the subjects of his kingdom (Luke 24:49, Acts 1:5-8). But as these were only outward form and symbol, they must petition Jehovah to keep the new king (v. 34). (d) David took no chances but steps aside fully, while he yet lived, that all question of Solomon's right should be removed (v. 35).

II. Solomon. (a) God-chosen. (I Chron. 28:5; 29:1). Solomon was the first son of David and Bath-sheba after their legal marriage. His name means "Peaceful" (see I Chron. 22:9) and may suggest the fact that David had found the peace of forgiveness. Solomon inherited the strength of David's maturity and chastity also, and through his mother, the wisdom of Abithophel, whose advice "was as if a man had inquired at the oracle of God" (2 Sam. 16:22). (b) He was chosen because of intercession (ch. 1:17). The standing of the Christian is what it is in the sight of God because of one who intercedes on our behalf (John 17). (c) He was chosen in the midst of controversy and as against antagonists (v. 5). So the Christian, chosen before the foundation of the world in Christ, also has great opposition and a dangerous antagonist and, like Solomon, he is secure in spite of the assaults of the evil one (I Cor. 13:12, Jude 24). (d) Solomon was chosen for a definite work (I Chron. 28:10). The sad spectacle presented today is to see so many professed Christians who seem to have no sense of responsibility much less an appreciation of their privileges in Christ Jesus. (e) Solomon was promised help (I Chron. 28:9) so are we and according to each day's duty "so shall thy strength be." "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me" (Phil. 4:13).

III. Adonijah. (a) He was a self-selected king (v. 5) and as such lacked not only the approval of God but the ability to execute his designs. He had Joab the bloody soldier and Abiathar the jealous priest as his conspirators, yet all combined could not set aside the decree of God. (b) He was a spoiled child. "His father had not displeased him at any time" (all his life, v. 6). True he was David's eldest living son, yet he was not in the line of God's selection. Throughout the history of Israel the elder is constantly set aside for the younger. He was lacking in many essentials.
